

Evening Standard

25th October 2010

No sign of Prince Andrew last night at an event aimed at promoting the image of Iran, although Alexandra Escat was in attendance. There have been rumours of a romantic connection since the pair was pictured together on a luxury yacht in Sardinia. Escat was accompanied instead by PR guru Max Clifford to the performance celebrating Iranian art and culture, organised by the Toos Foundation. Clifford, a supporter of a progressive Iran, had attended The X Factor the night before. "I'm a big fan of Variety," he said.

